We Salute You,

Converse High School, for the many years that you have provided education for the youth of our community. Many hours of serious study have been spent within your walls; much knowledge has been gained here. You have always provided a well-trained faculty for us. You have provided competitive sports which have taught us how to win and how to lose. You have given us many good times to remember and many friendships we shall never forget. Though the old must always make way for the new, we shall never forget you, and so we present, Converse High School,

A Tribute To You

CONVOCATIONS were held almost every Friday. They included pep sessions, guest speakers, exchange programs, panel discussions, concerts, and plays.

Activities during and after

HOT LUNCHES were furnished at a low cost to all pupils who desired them. Although the students did not enjoy waiting in a long line, they were rewarded with well-rounded meals.

"OUR HEARTS WERE YOUNG AND GAY" was the comedy presented by the seniors. Jim Hogan, Beverly Lee, Bill Burk, and Nancy Kling are shown here aboard ship.

"THANK YOUR LUCKY STARS," the junior play, was presented March 16. Donna Younce and Lloyd Jennings are shown in this picture.

THE DANCE BAND is composed of those students who are members of senior band and who make up the instrumentation desired. The instruments include clarinets, saxophones, trombones, drums, cornets, a piano, and string bass.

THE HALLOWEEN CARNIVAL furnished fun for all. Prizes were presented to many masqueraders, including these two.

THE SENIOR BAND participates in many activities, one of which is marching at the Bordermen Relays. Here the band is preparing to escort the queen and attendants down the track.

Extracurricular activities

THE JUNIOR-SENIOR RECEPTION of 1958 had as a backdrop this beautiful sea scene painted by Mrs. Nina Hiatt, a former English teacher here. The theme of the reception was "Sea Supreme."

School is run

The superintendent of schools, Mr. Dubois, is the professional help to the board in directing and running of the public schools.

He prepares the budget, orders supplies and equipment, and directs the payment of all claims. He also inspects all teacher licenses and recommends the hiring of teachers and school personnel to the school board. He works with the principals on curriculum development and adopting textbooks. Supervising building and grounds and directing bus routes and drivers are also his duties. One of Mr. Dubois' biggest jobs at the present is advising on the new school construction.

Mr. Dubois has a B.S. from Manchester and an M.S. from Indiana. He has taken additional work at Purdue.

SUPERINTENDENT DUBOIS of the Oak Hill School Corporation is quite busy getting everything ready for the new school.

DOROTHY MILLER, Mr. Dubois' secretary, is equally busy. She devotes her time to typing, filing, paying bills, and keeping records.

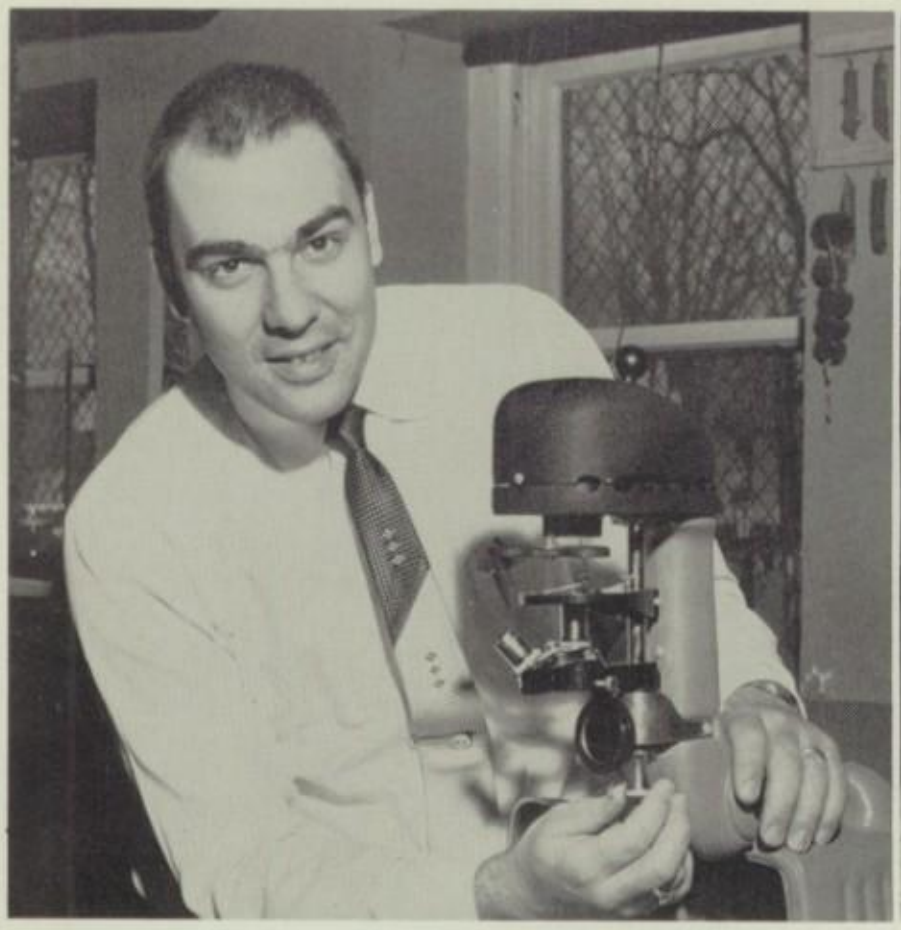
on an even keel

The principal, Mr. Hoffman, has many duties. Among these are scheduling classes and activities and initiating the curriculum and textbook selection for both the elementary and high school. He fills out recommendations for scholarships, colleges, and jobs. He supervises all school programs, including the lunch program. He purchases supplies and supervises the payment of bills within the school. In addition to these duties, he also helps teachers set policies, presides over teachers' meetings, and recommends to the superintendent teachers, clerical and janitorial staff, and the needed repairs on the building.

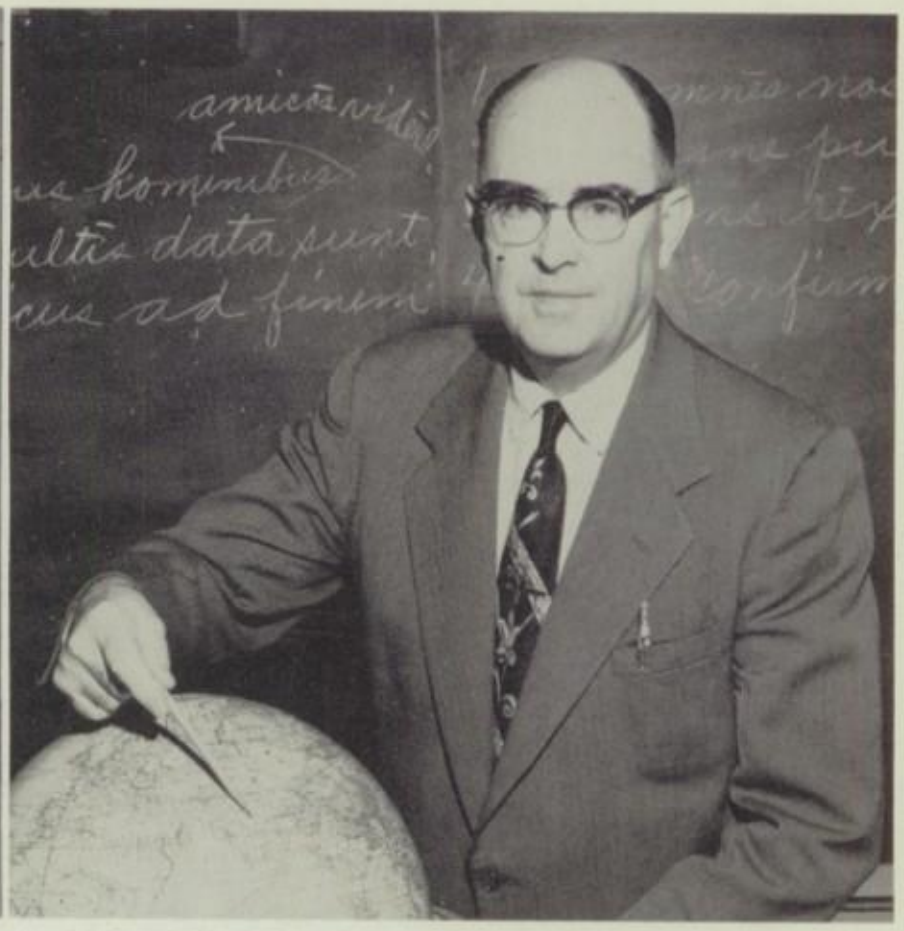
Mr. Hoffman received a B.S. and M.S. from Purdue University.

MR. HOFFMAN, principal of Converse High School, spent a busy year as the chief administrator of our school in its last year of legal existence.

MRS. KENDALL, the principal's secretary, kept records for all 12 grades, filed correspondence, typed letters, and had numerous other duties.



MR. CARBAUGH is adjusting one of his microscopes. Mr. Carbaugh attended Manchester College, where he received his B.S. He teaches biology and general science. He is also visual aids director and eighth grade sponsor.



MR. EVISTON, Latin and social studies teacher, points to a spot of historical importance. Mr. Eviston received his A.B. and M.S. from Indiana University. He is also the sophomore class sponsor.

Indispensable

Although some people do not realize it, the custodians, cooks, and bus drivers were a very important part of our school life during the past year. All year the custodians kept the schoolhouse, gymnasium, and school grounds clean and in good repair. In addition to these duties, during the spring and summer they kept the baseball diamond and track in good condition, painted both the schoolhouse and the gymnasium, and varnished all the floors in the schoolhouse.

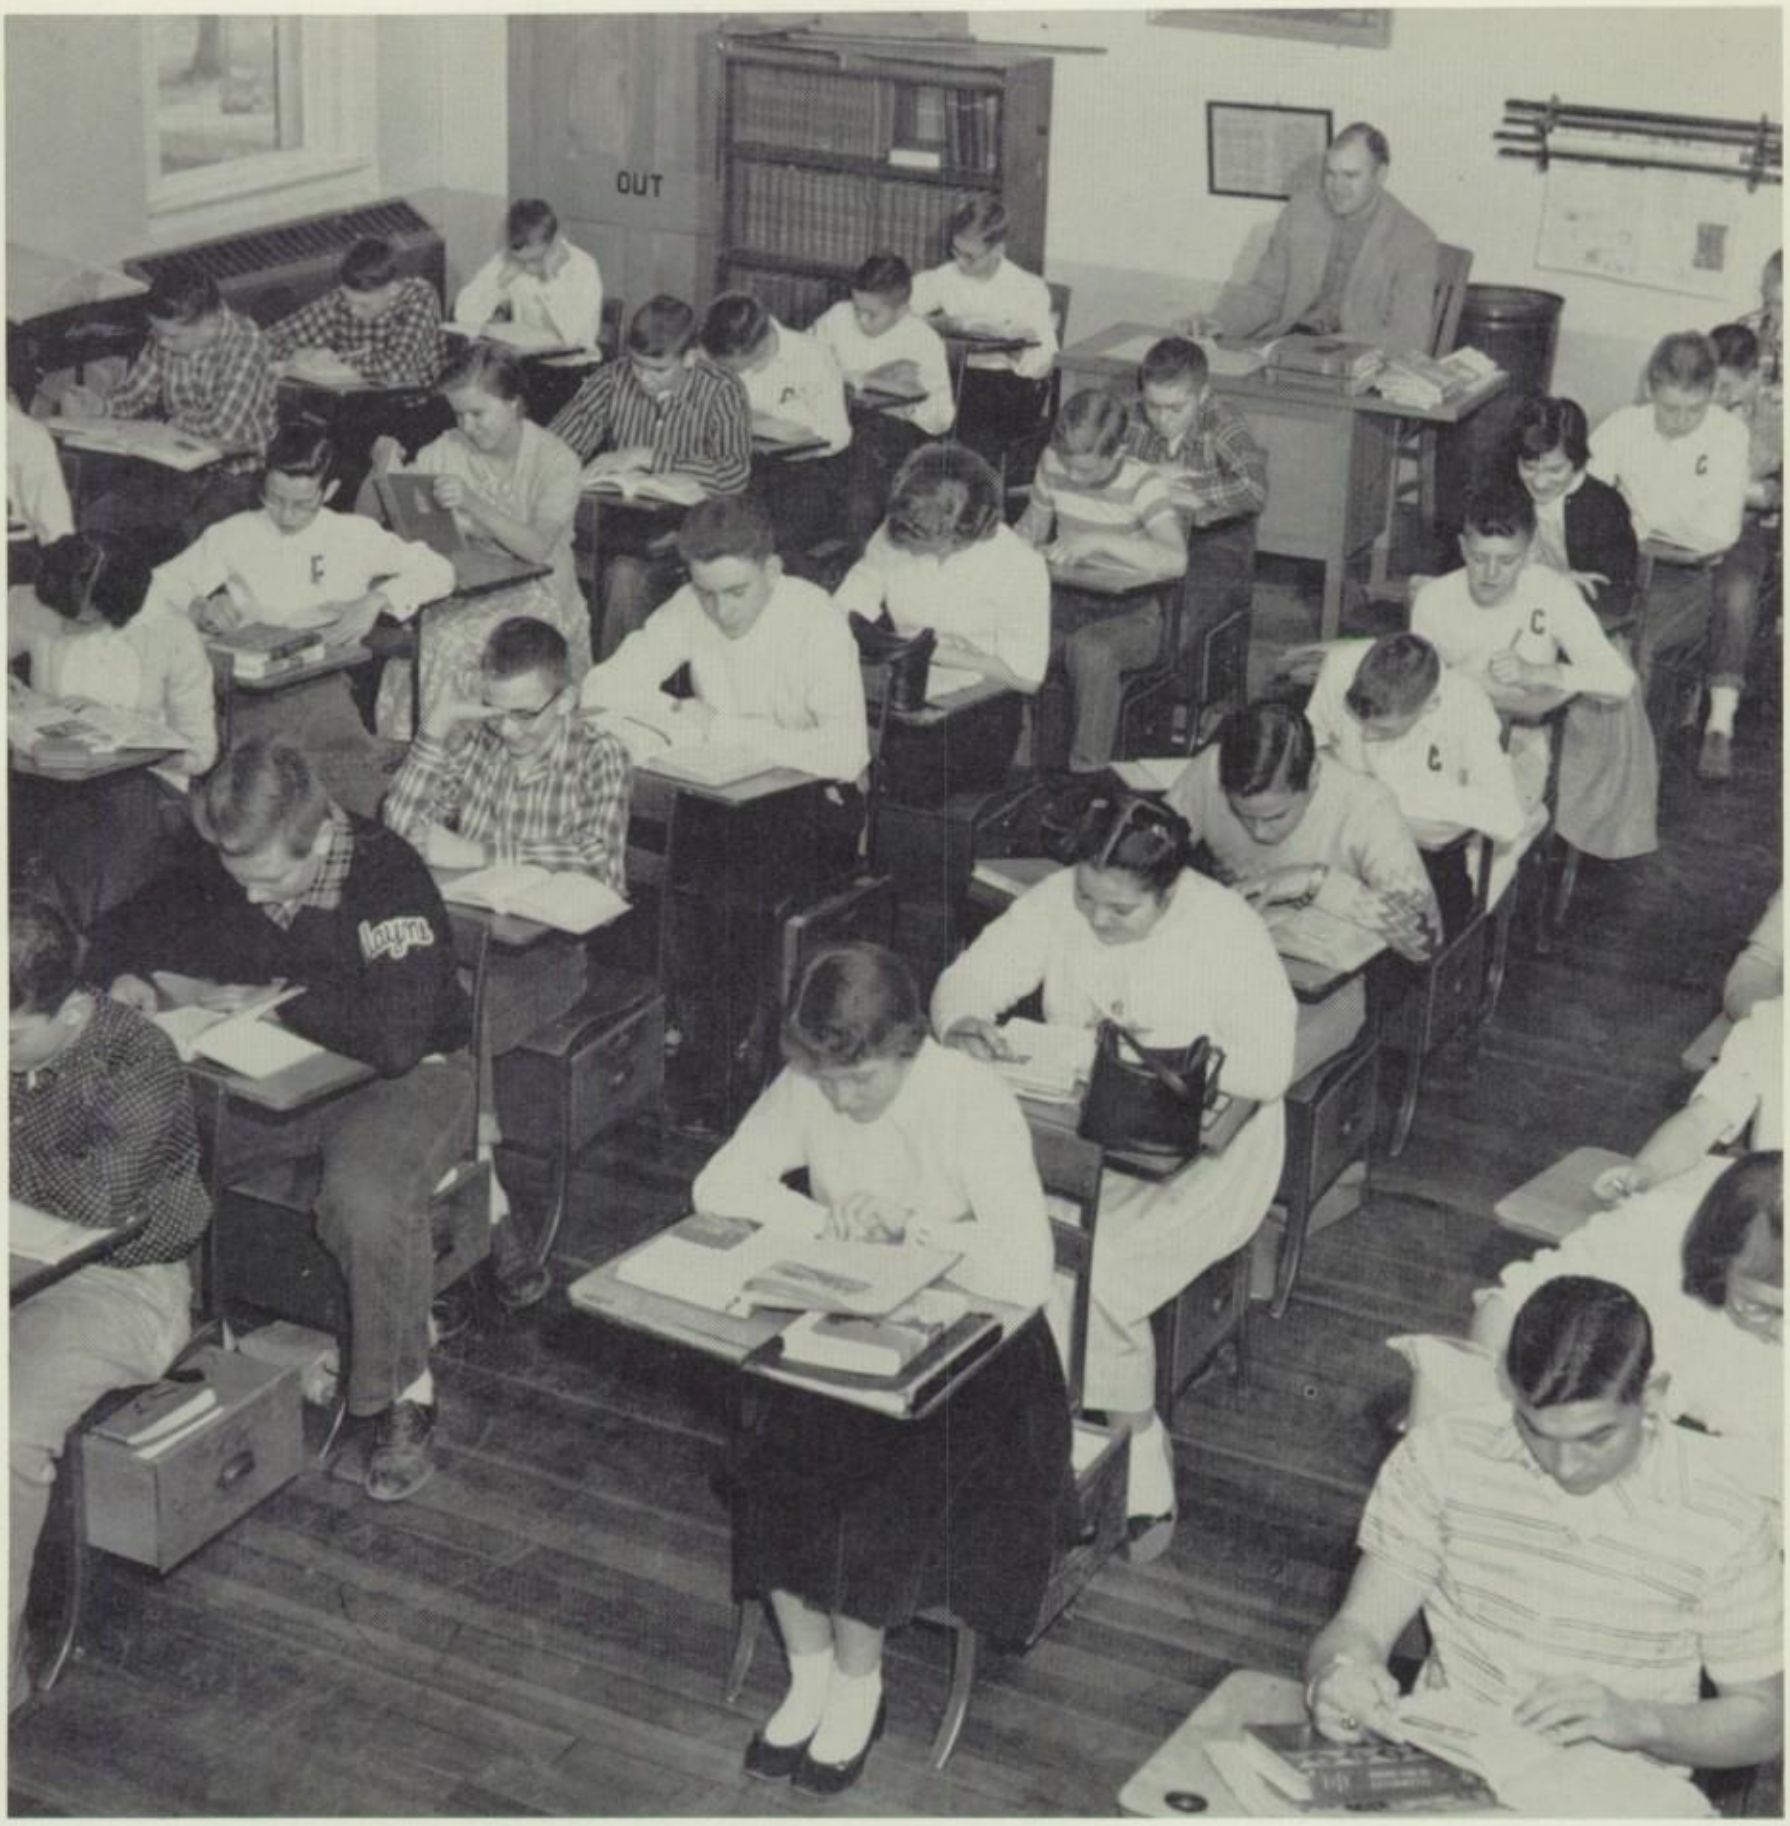
The cooks spent five days a week in the kitchen planning and cooking meals that would keep us healthy and happy. They not only cooked our meals but they also washed dishes, cleaned the kitchen, and disposed of our garbage.

Although the bus drivers did not stay at school with us, we depended on them to bring the country boys and girls to and from school safely and to keep the buses in good repair. In addition to this they transported us back and forth to many basketball games and other extracurricular activities.

CUSTODIANS Led Garner and Bill Caldwell take time to smile as they sweep the floor of the biology room after school.

BUS DRIVERS Royce Grubb, Darl Hodson, Dewain Carmack, Don Hunt, and John Rivers show off one of the school buses while waiting for school to dismiss.

PREPARING pans of macaroni are Mrs. Ethel Allen and Mrs. Gladys Thompson, the full-time cooks at Converse High School.



MR. McCARTER supervises the first period study hall while the pupils study earnestly.

ACADEMIC

We face a challenging era

FASCINATED by a lobster, Judy Cain holds it while Mr. Carbaugh, the biology teacher, explains how to dissect it.

Science and math challenge

The importance of science has only recently begun to be fully realized. We need not only scientists, engineers, and technicians, but all of us need to have a fuller knowledge of science in order to be well-rounded citizens in the modern world.

The first objective of science courses is to develop scientific attitudes—curiosity, open-mindedness, and the ability to use scientific methods in solving problems. Other goals of science courses are to develop the desire to achieve and to maintain good health for oneself and for the community, to promote conservation of natural resources, to develop hobbies, and to help discover vocational interests.

The goals of biology, in addition to these, are to develop understanding of plants and animals belonging to the environment and understanding of life processes.

In biology these aims are achieved by comparative study of plants from microscopic forms to trees. Biology students studied representative animals of a group, learning their habits, body structure, and life processes. They also studied the basic concepts of heredity.

Chemistry students studied elements and compounds—their chemical and physical properties, reactions with other chemicals, and the equations relating to the reactions. After this study they performed experiments with the element or compound, observed the results, and answered the questions in the workbook.

us and hold a bright future

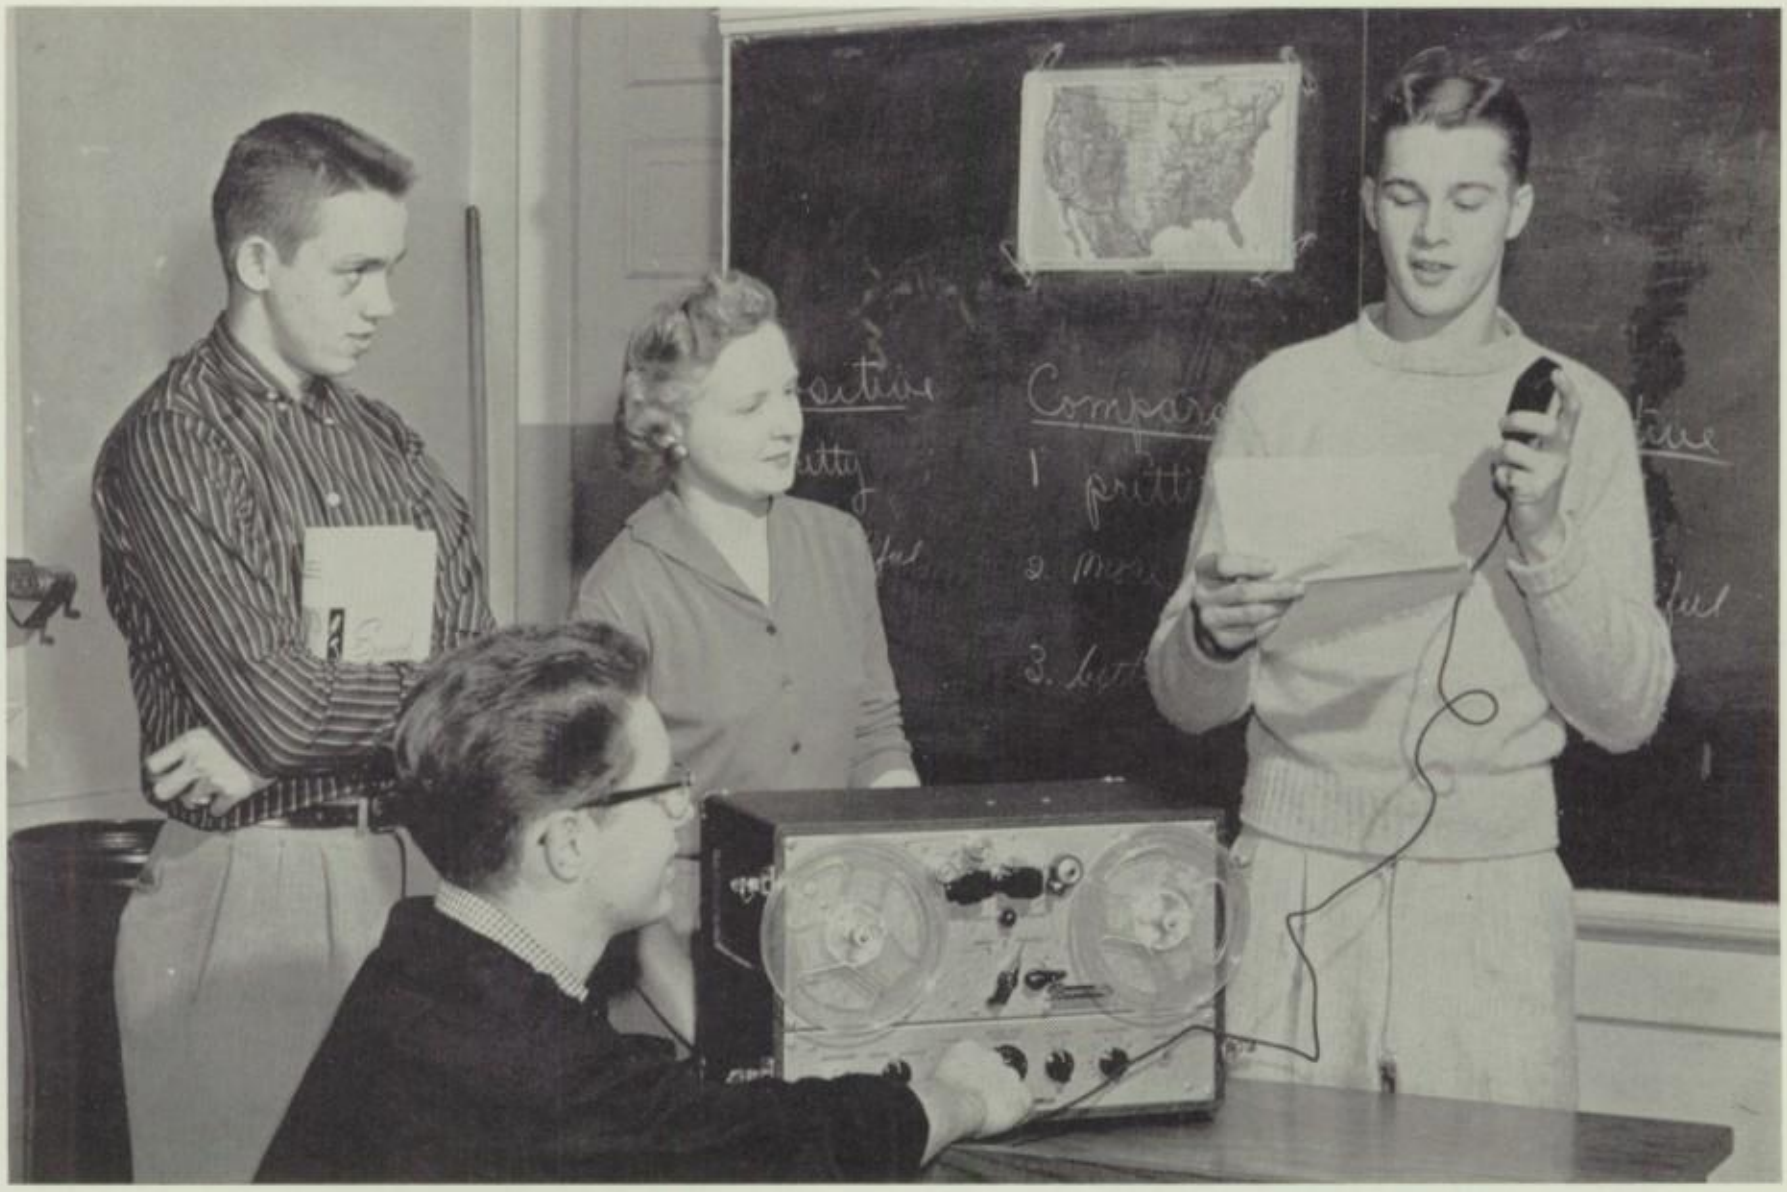
In recent years the public has developed a sharp interest in science and mathematics. Because of this interest, anyone advancing his knowledge of mathematics has automatically been placed in the scientific mechanism of the atomic world.

At Converse High School, however, the application of the principles of mathematics to the problems of everyday living was not forgotten, while at the same time teachers strove to give their pupils a good preparation for college.

Seventh and eighth grade pupils learned new skills while constantly reviewing old skills. Early development of the skill of taking words out of a written problem and translating them into mathematical symbols was stressed.

In a general mathematics course pupils received training in mathematics that is needed in the shop, in the store, in the kitchen, and in ordinary business affairs. It included training in arithmetic, algebra, and geometry.

Geometry and trigonometry students learned how to reason and how to calculate problems they will meet in everyday life. Geometry students learned the basic definitions, axioms, and propositions, working the related problems on the board. Trigonometry students studied the relationships between lines as the angle between them varies.



MRS. MORGAN supervises while Jim Golliher, Jim Brown, and Marvin Mooneyhan experiment with the tape recorder.

We strive to communicate better

After developing the desire to be understood, speech students tried to develop good speech habits, poise, and the ability to think on one's feet. To accomplish these ends they studied the various types of public speeches, debate, discussion, and oral interpretation of literature.

The first semester of English was spent studying written communication skills, including theme writing, grammar, punctuation, and capitalization. Vocabulary and spelling were also stressed. The second semester was spent studying literature.

BUSILY LOOKING UP vocabulary words for English class is Amaryllis Sheneman. English students also studied spelling and grammar and wrote themes.

It is a recognized fact that history repeats itself. This being true, the history of the past enables us to better solve the problems of the present and anticipate the problems of the future.

As we study the lives of the great men and women of the past and appreciate the contributions they have made to civilization, we are determined to preserve this rich heritage for our posterity.

Students of Latin find that it helps them in mastering their English grammar, aids logical thinking, and acquaints them with one of the greatest cultures the world has ever produced.

Latin terms and expressions are used in various professions. They are especially evident in medicine, nursing, pharmacy, and journalism. Those who have a Latin background have a definite advantage in these fields.

LATIN TENSES seem to present no problem to Tom Green. Here he conjugates the present and future tenses of video.

MR. EVISTON points out a spot in Europe to Peggy Dedman as he explains the colonial empires before the American Revolution.

HOME PLANNING appears to be fun as these girls under the supervision of Mrs. Hullinger plainly show. Carolyn Miller, Linda Pemberton, and Betty Stambaugh arrange various appliances.

By studying and doing we gain

Every student over fifteen years old is given the opportunity to enroll in a course of driver's education. The purpose of the class is to make the best drivers possible out of the students. This is done by increasing their knowledge of the automobile and by developing proper driving habits and attitudes. The student spends four days of the week in the classroom learning the rules, regulations, and conduct of the highway. The remaining time is spent in the dual control car forming skills that will make him a good driver.

In home economics girls learned many things that will help them be good wives. Freshmen learned food preparation and serving, clothing preparation and construction, and social behavior. Sophomores studied meal planning and advanced nutrition, kitchen arrangements, home nursing, and child care. House planning and advanced clothing construction were stressed in junior home economics. Seniors studied cooking and meal planning, marriage and social relations, and tailoring.

XEN PRICKETT learns to use a dictaphone as he types. The dictaphone plays back recorded messages for typing.

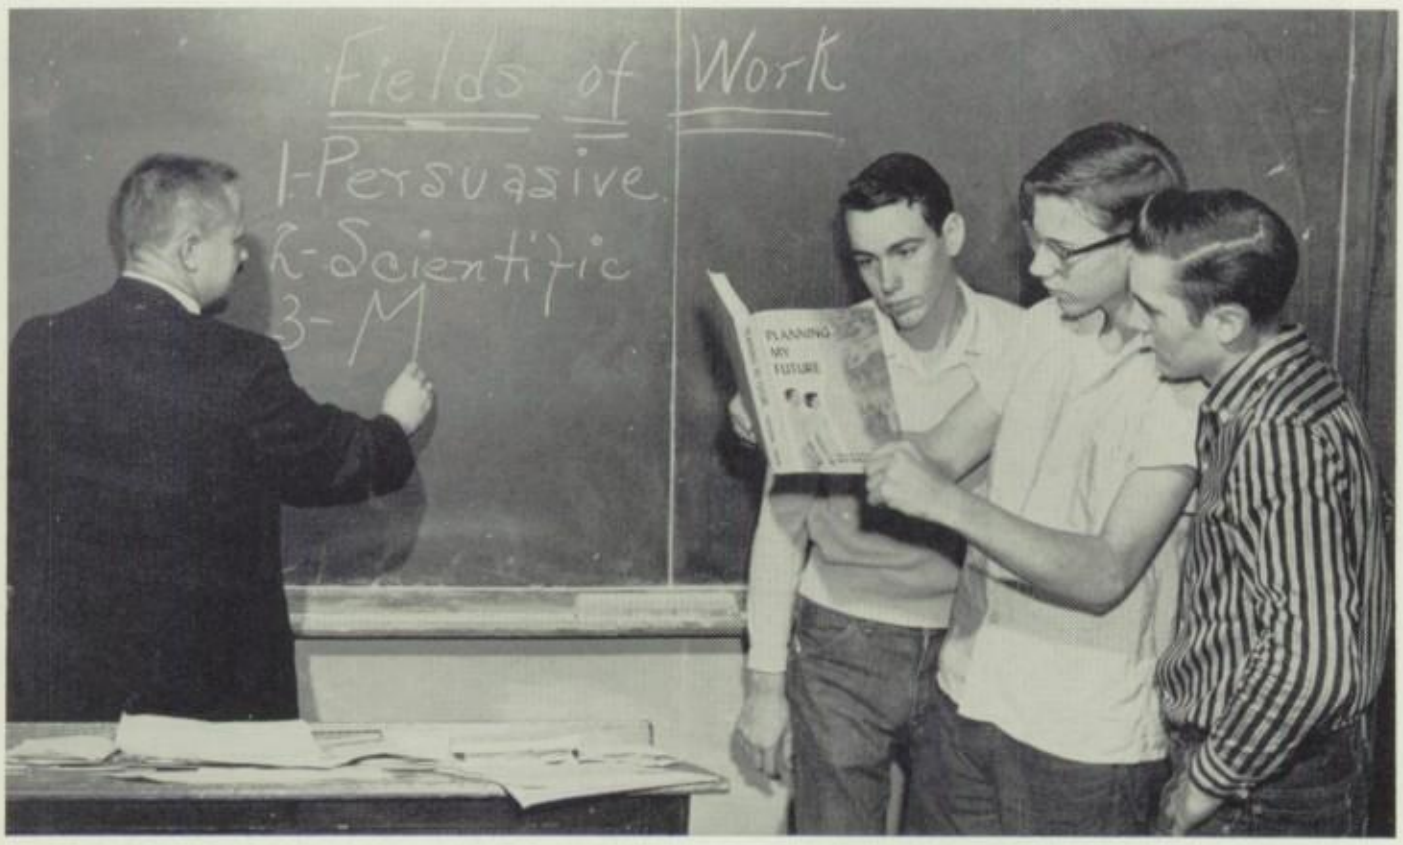
experience to aid us in life

Business education courses as a whole have several objectives. These include equipping pupils, regardless of future occupation, with business skills and knowledge useful in personal business and consumer activities, as well as promptness in preparing personal and business reports.

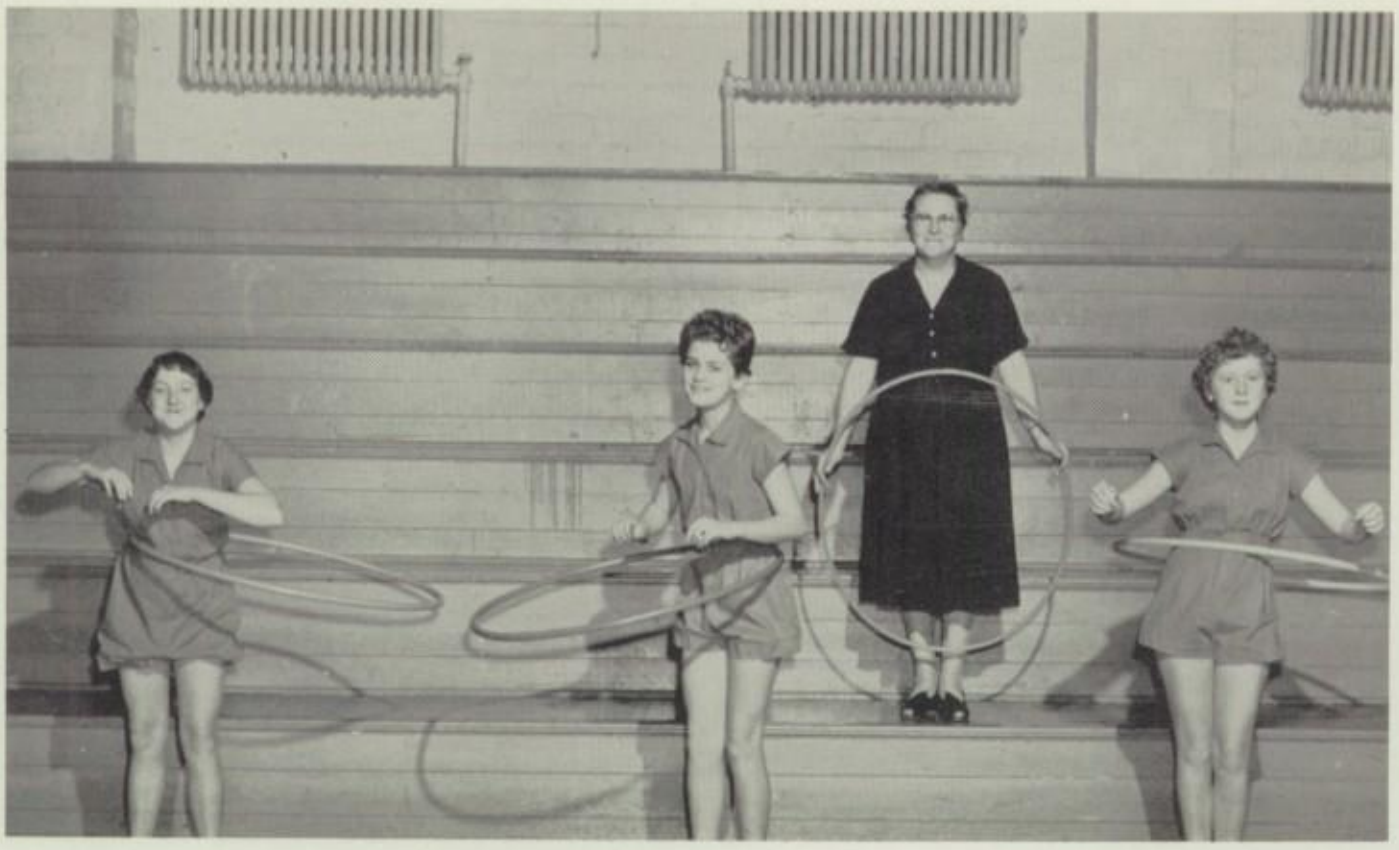
In all business education courses at Converse High School these objectives were stressed, with the hope that they would carry over into future business and personal situations.

Another course designed to help pupils in the future is vocational guidance. Vocational guidance, which was given to the sophomore boys, attempted to equip them better to make the choice of a job, which ranks along with choosing a wife as one of the two most important decisions a man will make.

The sophomore boys studied the different families of vocations, the characteristics of a good employee, what an employer wants from an employee, and the correct way to go about getting a job.



"PLANNING MY FUTURE" appears to be an appropriate title for the guidance textbook. Mr. Ford shows Jim Bowman, Eddie Hardin, and John Howard the various fields of work.



HULA HOOPS hit Converse this year. Nancy Myers, Becky Riley, and Susan Warnock display their ability at hula hoop spinning as Mrs. Hamilton looks on.

Phys. Ed. strengthens our bodies

Physical education's aim is to strengthen bodies and develop co-ordination. Calisthenics were used in both boys' and girls' classes to warm up at the beginning of the period. Various activities filled the rest of the time. Boys often played games such as basketball or volleyball or they tumbled. Girls usually played games such as kick ball, two deep, basketball, or volleyball. They also did some tumbling. A trampoline was used in physical education classes the last semester.

Mrs. Hullinger, Mrs. Hamilton, Mr. McCarter, and Mr. McDonald taught junior high and high school physical education.

MUSCLE BUILDERS were used in boys' physical education. Kenny Malott and Gerald Hobbs aid Richard Curtis in turning a flip while Charles Cobbs and Phillip Hale lift barbells.

SENIOR OFFICERS discuss plans for the senior trip and various money-making projects to raise the needed money. They are Jim Hogan, president; Larry Arrick, vice-president; Nancy Kling, secretary, and Linda Riley, treasurer.

Graduation highlights year

Raising money for the senior trip is a huge task for any senior class. This year's class was no exception. During the first semester they presented the senior class play which was entitled "Our Hearts Were Young And Gay." They sold Christmas cards to raise funds. During the last semester they had a fish and shrimp fry, sold booster bars, had a bake sale and a car wash, and sponsored a record hop and a work day. However, all ended happily for them, and they all enjoyed a six-day trip to Washington and New York.

During the year a number of seniors received special recognition. Ernest Thode established himself as one of the leading young English pupils in the state by winning a certificate and a silver medal in state-wide English competition; Larry Arrick was ranked among the top ten basketball players in the northern half of the state.

The hearts of every member of the senior class were in their throats during the latter part of April when the senior graduation announcements arrived with the wrong date on them. However, the announcement company rushed them some more announcements, and everything occurred as scheduled.

Their baccalaureate was held at the Christian Church on Sunday, May 17. Beverly Lee was valedictorian of the class, and Ernest Thode was salutatorian. The class wore citation blue caps and gowns with white tassels. The class flower was the American Beauty rose, and the class motto was "The door to success is labelled push." Commencement was held on May 22, and the 1959 graduates left the following day on their class trip.

UNDERCLASSMEN

Working onward and upward

JUNIORS were happy the day they received their class rings. Shown here are president Ray Kling, vice-president Merle Templin, secretary Beverly Clevenger, and treasurer Kay Middlesworth.

Ring selections puzzling, but fun

Associated with the junior class are class rings. This year's junior class rings had the standard crowned crest, initials on the side, and a curved line separating the numerals in the number 1960.

The junior class gained some practical experience last fall when they accompanied the senior class, Mr. Ford, and Mr. Hoffman to Indianapolis to see the state legislature in session. It is hoped that this trip will help the juniors to better understand the state legislature when they study it in government class as seniors.

As usual, the juniors sold magazines this past year and earned a nice profit from the sale of them. They sold concessions at basketball games and track meets, and during lunch hour they sold ice cream in the lower hall. They also sponsored two skating parties at the Idyl Wyld Skating Rink at Marion. Beth Myers and DeWain Cobbs were king and queen candidates to the Halloween Carnival.

Junior attendants to the queen of the Bordermen Relays were Beth Myers and Kay Middlesworth. In addition to Kay Middlesworth's being the only junior cheerleader, she was also elected as cheerleader for the 1959-1960 Oak Hill basketball season. Donna Kay Younce participated in the State English Achievement examination which was held in April, 1959.

Each class is allowed two class parties; the juniors held their first one on December 21. Their last party was the annual Junior and Senior Reception held at Wabash in the Honeywell Memorial on May 8, 1959. Since their theme was the "Oriental Gardens," the juniors and seniors spent the evening in Japan. A dinner was held at 7:00 p.m., amid bright decorations, and after the program, dancing was enjoyed by all.

CHOOSING CLASS SWEATERS is one problem sophomores look forward to. Looking over sweaters are president Rex Younce, vice-president Mickey McCormack, secretary Sharon Graham, and treasurer Kaye Reed.

One of the major problems of all sophomore classes is the choosing of class sweaters. This year the sophomore class chose black sweaters with red and black numerals and letters bordered in white. They had a choice of a "V" neck sweater or a coat style.

In addition to choosing their sweaters, they also chose their junior class rings. Their rings will have a star on either side with a sunken crest, and the numerals will be slanted in. Each member of the class chose a set to his own liking.

Many members of the sophomore class received various honors throughout the year. Rex Younce and Joyce Rohrer were elected king and queen of the Halloween Carnival in October. Sharilyn Horner and Rosaland Etchison were elected sophomore attendants to the queen of the Bordermen Relays. Joan Curtis, Carol McKeefer, and Sharilyn Horner participated in the W.C.T.U. speech contest held in Amboy on March 18. Dale Haines, Bill Shaw, Cedric Durkes, and Rodney Pence won expense-paid trips to New York and Washington through their 4-H demonstrations which won grand champion honors at the State Fair. Bill Hacker, another sophomore, made this same trip last year. These boys also received gold watches, as did Lonny Harts, another sophomore.

The sophomore class had two class parties — a Christmas party at Rodney Pence's home and a swimming party at the Marion Y.M.C.A. on May 9.

RULES AND REGULATIONS of high school are new to freshmen. Talking over some of these are Jeff Feller, president; Jean Arrick, treasurer; Don Rennaker, vice-president; and Judy Cain, secretary.

Choosing courses is no easy job

Adjusting to high school life is always a big problem for the freshmen. One of the major things to be considered is the choosing of the right curriculum to follow throughout one's high school career. This problem for this past year's class was amplified, for they not only had to consider the courses at Converse, but they also had to keep an eye on the courses that will be offered in the future at Oak Hill. In addition to this, the freshmen had to learn to live by many new rules and regulations.

However, the first year of high school is not all work and no play. During this year Jean Arrick and Jesse Brookshire were elected as candidates for king and queen of the Halloween Carnival. For further recreation, the freshmen had two class parties—a Christmas party and a picnic in the spring.

Oak Hill — School of the future

The new $1,500,000 Oak Hill High School at the junction of roads Indiana 18 and Indiana 13 will be completed in August, 1960. The building, which will be able to accommodate 700 junior and senior high pupils from Jackson Township, Miami County and Richland and Pleasant Townships in Grant County, will occupy 96,000 square feet of floor space. In the main wing will be 12 general classrooms and two laboratories, one for general science and one for physics and chemistry. In addition there will be two shops, an agriculture room, a drafting room, an arts and crafts room, a food laboratory, a clothing laboratory, a typing room, a bookkeeping room, an office practice room, a library, and numerous offices and storage rooms. The gymnasium will have a capacity of 2,800. Separated from the classrooms by the gymnasium will be the instrumental and vocal music rooms, the cafetorium, which can easily be converted into a cafeteria, an auditorium, or a multi-purpose room, and the kitchen. The entire building will be electrically heated. The exterior will be of gray brick and the interior will be partly cement blocks and partly glazed tile with blue-green porcelain. An area is being developed for an athletic program including football, baseball, basketball, and track.

The architectural firm is Hamilton and Graham of Muncie; the construction is being done by the Wilhelm Construction Company of Indianapolis, the plumbing by the Burton Plumbing-Heating Company of Rochester; and the electrical and heating company is Sanborn Electrical of Indianapolis. The original school board planning for this school was Ed Powell, president; J. E. Fraley, vice-president; Robert Wolfe, secretary; Clarence Middlesworth, treasurer; Eldon Woodmansee, Roy Rennaker, and Don Kendall. The present school board is composed of J. E. Fraley, president; Roy Rennaker, vice-president; Robert Wolfe, secretary; Don Kendall, treasurer, John D. Foust, Loren Winger, and Guy Losure.

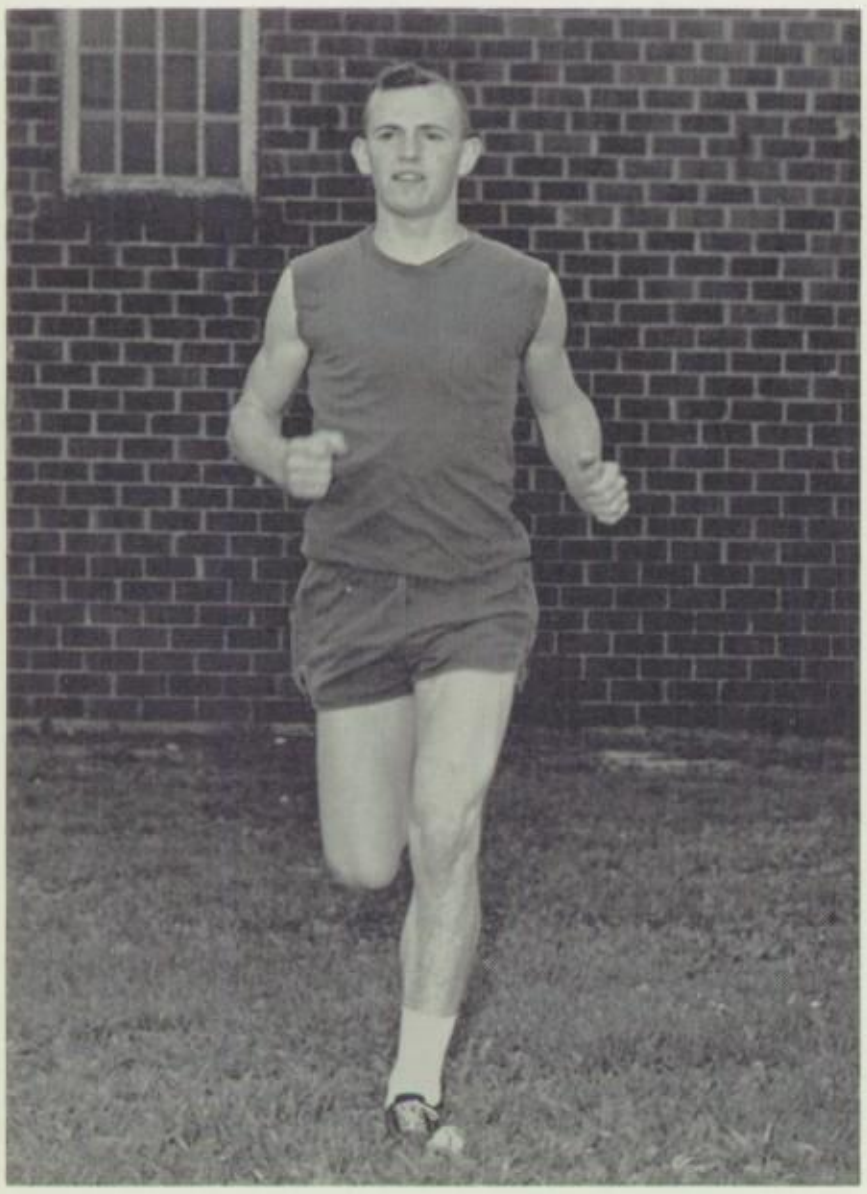
Harriers win Tri-County



The 1958 cross-country team had a successful season in only its second year of existence at Converse. The harriers lost only one meet during the season. That meet was to Northwestern. In addition to this the Converse team won the Tri-County Conference meet.

Although any number of boys may run, the first five boys who finish on each team are the only ones who score. The positions in which they finish are added, and the team with the lowest score wins the meet.

CHEERLEADERS Kay Middlesworth, Nancy Brookshire, Gloria Young, and Nancy Kling had almost as good a workout at games as the basketball players did. These girls not only led cheers at games, but they also spent many hours practicing.

Enthusiasm ran high at games

It was not an uncommon sight to see the varsity cheerleaders practicing cheers in the school gym. This year Nancy Kling completed three years as varsity cheerleader; Gloria Young completed two; and both Nancy Brookshire and Kay Middlesworth finished their first. Nancy Kling, Nancy Brookshire, and Gloria were seniors; Kay was a junior. The varsity cheerleaders were aided at several "B" team games by Bonnie Mobley, Carol McCormack, Jean Arrick, and Sheila Davis—freshman cheerleaders.

BOOSTER CLUB president Donna Younce, vice-president Beth Myers, and secretary Jeannie Warnock consult Mr. Carbaugh, faculty adviser. By proper supervision, Mr. Carbaugh and the girls produced a very fine booster club this year.

BOOSTERS were always on hand to cheer the team on to victory. The Booster Club consisted of all pupils in the upper six grades who fulfilled the requirements and wished to participate.

and the fans cheered on

Every basketball team needs fans to give it moral support. This past year our team had plenty of moral support, for there were plenty of fans composing the 1958-1959 Booster Club. There were 81 pupils, all coming from grades seven through twelve, in the Booster Club. Under Mr. Carbaugh, faculty adviser, it became a much more efficient organization than it had been in past years. Many new rules and regulations were established. For instance, Booster Club members were required to attend every game unless they were sick or were excused by the president. If a Booster Club member had more than two unexcused absences, he was expelled from the club. Each Booster Club member had an assigned seat, and he was required to sit in this seat at both home games and away games. Besides these new rules, all of the old rules were restated and enforced. The Booster Club not only yelled at games, but they also had frequent practices to learn new yells and to discuss club policies. In addition to these special practices, they also had special pep sessions before every basketball game.

THE VARSITY earned a high place in the basketball history of Converse High School bringing home a 21-4 record for a successful season. Members were Jim Hogan, Bill Burk, Wayne Douglass, William Mobley, Bob Losure, Larry Arrick, Melvin Hamilton, Tom Dubois, Lloyd Jennings, Jim Hunt, Lonny Harts, and DeWain Cobbs, coached by Mr. McCarter and Mr. McDonald.

Bordermen take Tri-County, County,

The 1959 Converse Bordermen finished the season with the best record of any team since 1944. Some of the highlights of the season were as follows: the Bordermen won the Four-Way Tournament at Swayzee by defeating Windfall and Swayzee; they took the County Tournament at Peru by beating Clay, Deedsville, and Chili; they brought home the first Sectional crown since 1950 by defeating Bunker Hill, Clay, and Peru. In addition to these triumphs, the Bordermen won the Tribune Trophy by defeating every team in the county, and they also shared the Tri-County Conference trophy.

On May 4, 1959, the athletic banquet was held in the gymnasium to honor all boys who participated in athletics at Converse during the past year. At this banquet the top ten basketball players were awarded major basketball letters, the baseball players who earned letters were honored, and the track boys were presented their letters. In addition to receiving letters, the top ten basketball players, the managers, and the coaches were awarded miniature gold basketballs with "1959 sectional champs" engraved on them. The senior basketball players had previously received their honor jackets which were red with black sleeves with stripes on them for every major basketball letter received at Converse. Bill Burk and Larry Arrick were the recipients of the annual Larrison Sportsmanship Award. All basketball players that hit over 60% of their foul shots during the season were awarded trophies, and Jim Hogan received the Glenn Smith Memorial trophy for track.

Student leadership is essential

During the 1958-1959 school year the Senior Band played for the Sweetser-Swayzee basketball game November 1, as well as many home basketball games. The Fall Concert was held November 9; a concert for the P.T.O. followed on November 17. One of the highlights of the year, playing for the Indiana Music Educators' Association meeting in Indianapolis, followed on November 22; 28 numbers were prepared for this session. February 5 the band presented a concert for the Department Club.

The annual band tour, which included concerts at Fremont, Ligonier, and South Whitley on March 30 and 31, was followed the same week by the district band contest at Greentown on April 4. The next week, on April 11, the state band contest was held at Manchester College. For the sixth consecutive year the band received superior ratings at both contests. The band also performed at the Bordermen Relays on April 24. The Spring Concert on May 3 was the final concert of the Converse High School Band, rounding out a long and outstanding history.

Soloists excel at District and State

Forty-nine soloists entered the district contest held at Marion in February. Fifty-five per cent of these received superior ratings. Ten of these were eligible for the State Contest. Excellent ratings at the state were received by Nancy Kling, Sharilyn Horner, Bonnie Mobley, Jeff Feller, and Gary Miller. Superior ratings were received by Kaye Reed, Rhea Barker, Beverly Lee, Sharon Graham, and Ernest Thode.

All ensembles receive firsts

Every ensemble entered by the Converse band in the district and state contests received a first rating. In order to be eligible for the state contest, the group must be entered in group 3, 2, or 1 and receive a first rating at the district contest. These groups are determined by the age of the group, the difficulty of the selection, and the previous ratings. Every group but one was eligible for the state contest; all the groups entered in the state received firsts also.

BOTH the mixed clarinet quartet and the saxophone quartet received superior ratings at the district and state contests. Composing the mixed clarinet quartet are Joyce Rohrer, Linda Riley, Patty Cobbs, and Ruth Hamilton. Gloria Young, Beth Myers, Judy Cain, and Kaye Reed make up the saxophone ensemble.

Glee Club wins first at State

The Girls' Glee Club is composed of freshman, sophomore, junior, and senior girls. The group met three times a week the first semester and twice a week the second. These class periods were spent preparing numbers to be presented at various concerts and the contests held in the spring. The Glee Club sang for the Department Club, the Lions Club, and the P.T.O. They sang at both the Spring and Fall Concerts; they also sang at baccalaureate.

The Glee Club was started in the fall of 1956. That year it competed in the contest and received a second rating at the district contest. The following two years the Glee Club received a first rating at both the district contest and the state. The 1959 Glee Club received a first at the district and state. For Contest this year they sang "Japanese Lullaby" by Roff, "Lazy Afternoon" by Siegmeister, and "Barbados" by Forsbald. They also received a first in sight reading at the contest.

The group was founded by Mr. Drake and is still under his direction.

At the annual spring band supper, awards of small necklace charms were presented to the senior members of the Glee Club. They were awarded to Gloria Young, Nancy Brookshire, Nancy Tibbets, Nancy Kling, and Beverly Lee. All of these girls were members of the first Glee Club.

Oak Hill Junior Band carries on tradition

The newly formed Oak Hill Junior Band carried on a tradition started by the Converse Junior Band seven years ago. Entering the contest for the first time this year they were rated Superior by all three judges. The band competed in Class "B" and was composed of students from the schools of Mier, Sweetser, and Converse. The directors were Mr. John Brane and Mr. Corlyle Drake.

Seniors travel to France

Dramatically the members of the senior play cast traveled to France last fall. The play was about Cornelia Skinner (Beverly Lee) and Emily Kimbrough (Nancy Kling), who traveled to Paris for a short vacation. The girls had many adventures, some of which included being bitten by bedbugs, catching the measles, and meeting one of the best actors in France (Ernest Thode).

PONDERING his decision is Bill Burk, a medical student, while Nancy Kling (right) tries to console Beverly Lee, a victim of the measles.

TWO ENGLISH GIRLS, Gloria Young and Nancy Tibbets, come calling armed with their toothbrushes and mouthwash.

THE JUNIOR PLAY CAST was: Diana Cunningham, Ruth Hamilton, Beth Myers, Lloyd Jennings, Donna Younce, Peggy Dedman, Ray Kling, Kay Middlesworth, Tom Dubois, Don Larrison, and Beverly Clevenger.

Juniors say, "Thank Your Lucky Stars."

"Thank Your Lucky Stars" was presented by the junior class on March 26. Tony Van Orden (Lloyd Jennings) was a rich young man who had many imaginary ailments. One summer he visited the Wiltons, old friends of his father. Barbara (Donna Younce), the youngest daughter, immediately fell in love with him, deciding that she would help Tony rid himself of all these imaginary ailments. Through a series of hilarious events Tony is cured, and everything ends happily for all.

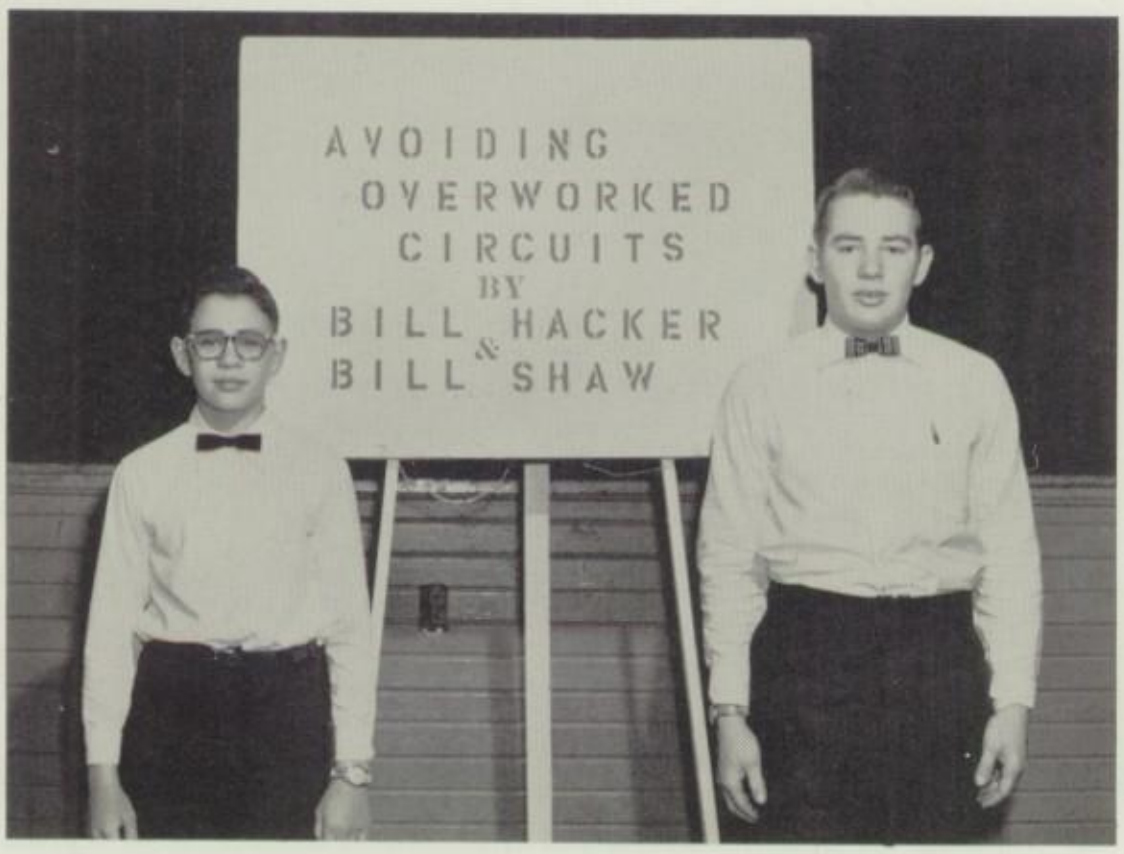
CONCERNED about Lloyd Jennings' condition are Diana Cunningham, Beth Myers, and Tom Dubois.

DON LARRISON fails to convince Lloyd Jennings that he is only imagining his illness.

STATE FAIR forestry and entomology identification team members were Jim Hogan, Bill Burk, Kenneth Hunter, and Jeff Feller, entomology, and Ernest Thode, forestry.

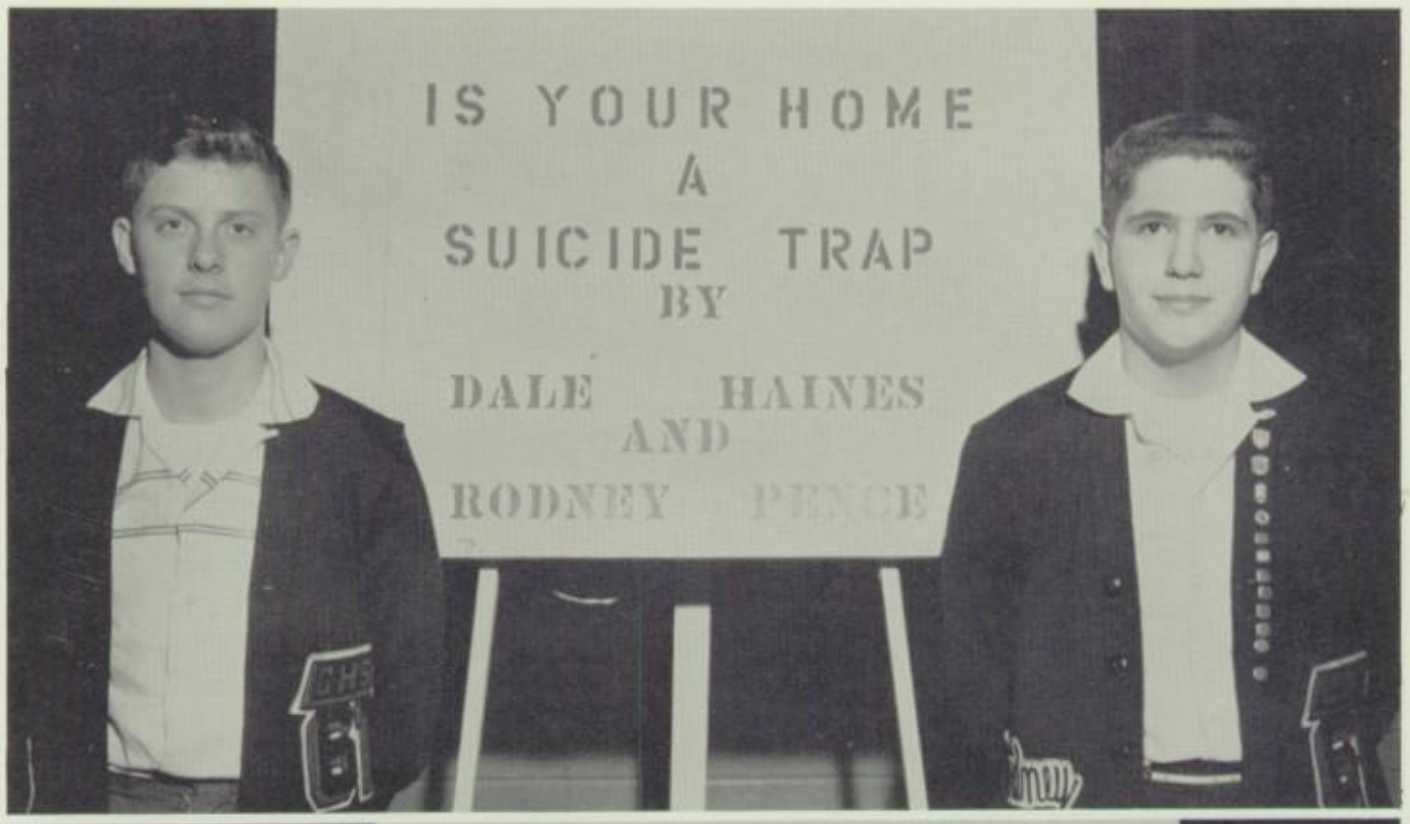
4-H teams participate in state

ELECTRICAL demonstration State Fair grand champions were Bill Hacker and Bill Shaw, who won a trip to Washington and New York. Both are sophomores.

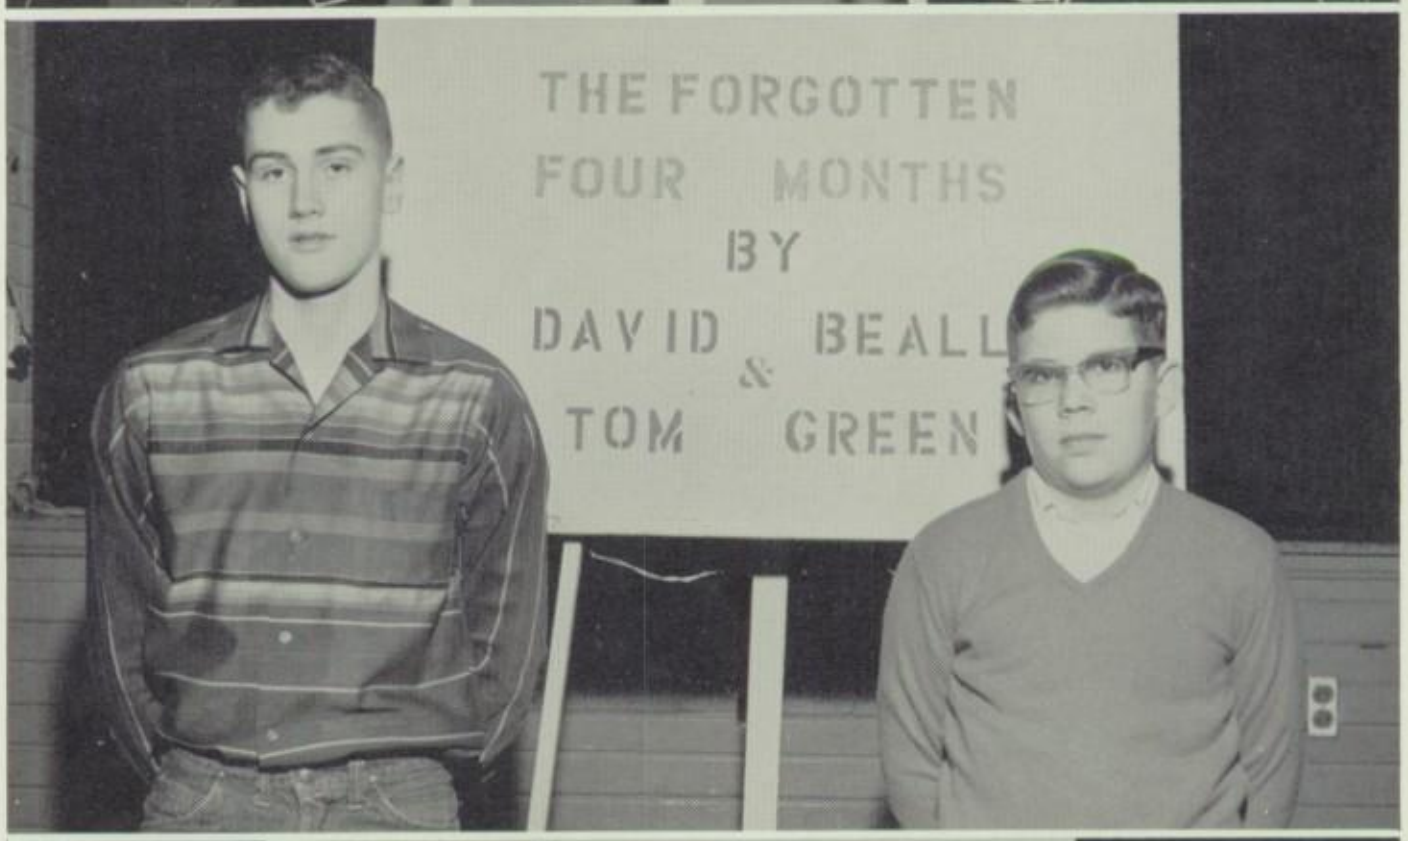


Representing Converse at the 1958 state contest were two entomology teams and two forestry teams. One entomology team was ranked third in a field of twenty-two, and the other was ranked eighth. One forestry team was ranked sixth, and the other was ranked seventeenth. In order to participate in the state contest, each team had to rank as either first, second, or third in both the county and district contests.

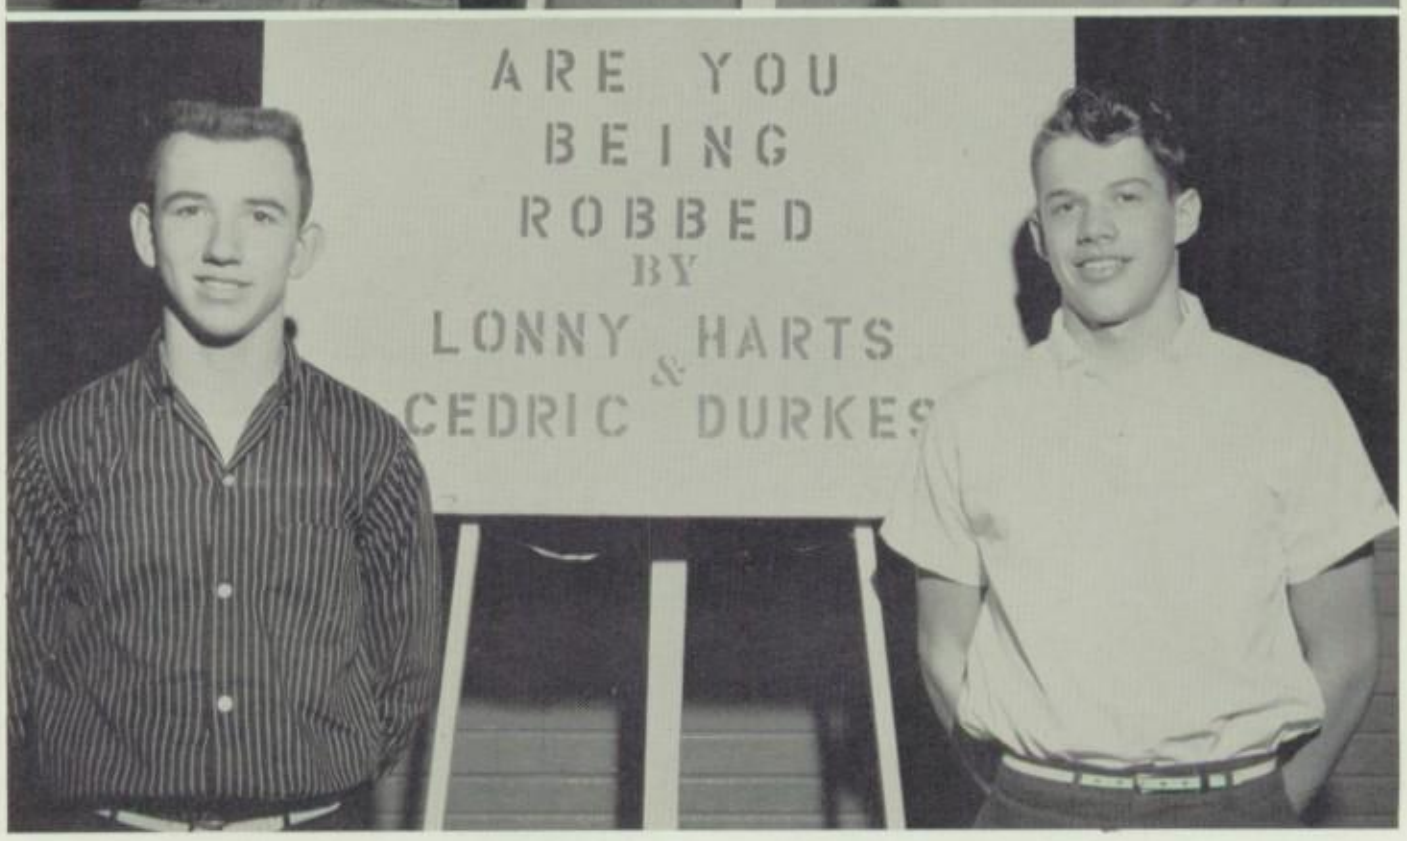
In addition to receiving a trip to Washington, Bill Hacker and Bill Shaw also presented their demonstration in a movie for the R.E.M.C.



SAFETY in the home was the subject of Dale Haines and Rodney Pence's grand champion demonstration.



THE TEAM of Tom Green and David Beall won reserve grand champion swine demonstration in the state.



THE DAIRY demonstration team of Lonny Harts and Cedric Durkes won grand champion at the State Fair.

SOPHOMORES elected Rex Younce and Joyce Rohrer as their candidates for King and Queen of the Carnival. They were successful in gaining the throne.

Ghosts, goblins, clowns, a king and queen, cake walks, and fun were all a part of the 1959 Halloween Carnival. The carnival is sponsored annually by the Band Patrons Organization.

Every year there is a masquerade parade, and cash prizes are given to the best dressed masqueraders. For the last several years a king and queen have been elected. Each high school class chooses a representative; then it is a class project to get their candidates elected. This is done by selling votes for the candidates. The votes cost 10c; the sophomores won by selling over 1400 votes. Other candidates for king were Nancy Tibbets and William Mobley, seniors; Beth Myers and DeWain Cobbs, juniors, and Jean Arrick and Jesse Brookshire, freshmen.

DONNA DAILEY, a junior, and her two small friends model their new spring dresses made by Donna in home economics class. Their dresses were modeled at the annual Spring Style Show.

DISPLAYING the suit she made is Gloria Young, a senior, with her escort, Bill Burk. Gloria's suit was described as "a spring tweed blend of pink and gray on a blue background" by Sharilyn Horner and Mary Ellen Miller, the two narrators.

Girls model new spring garments

From the time the co-editors, Beverly Lee and Nancy Tibbets, first started planning the dummy and learning to write copy at the Indiana University Journalism Institute last summer until the finishing touches were put on the last signature for the printer, every day was filled with yearbook work and fun.

At the Indiana University Institute co-editor Beverly Lee won first place in the editing division for overall performance. Six staff members attended the Indiana High School Press Association Conference at Franklin College.

Everything had to be edited without error, every line had to be in the right place, every picture had to be cropped just right, every headline had to be gay, and every piece of copy had to be sparkling before it could be used in the Borderlite.

Almost a year of hard work was put into the publication of the Borderlite. It was a welcome relief for the whole staff when the last signature was sent to the printer.

*The editors wish to give special recognition to Jim Hogan, Ernest Thode, and Nancy Kling, who did many things in addition to their regular jobs.

Misspelled words, ink on their fingers, and the final rush just before the paper went to press were each a very real part of publishing the Porcupine.

Even before school started, planning was being done by editor-in-chief Donna Kay Younce, who spent two hard weeks at the Indiana University Journalism Institute. At the institute she won first prize with her editorial, "I Am a Teen-Ager."

In October five staff members and Mr. Freed, the adviser, attended the state press conference at Franklin College. Four staff members attended Eastern Indiana Journalism Day at Ball State, where Donna Younce and Lloyd Jennings took part in a panel discussion.

But besides these trips there were many hours of drudgery. Typing, editing, and writing copy took hours every week.

All this work produced a fine paper. The bi-weekly Porcupine is an active member of the Indiana High School Press Association.

THE STUDENT COUNCIL was newly organized this past year. It was composed of all class officers of the upper six grades. Miss Evans was faculty adviser; Bill Burk, president; Jim Moorman, vice-president; and Linda Riley, secretary.

Students assume new duties

During the past year the Student Council sponsored various activities. They sponsored a Courtesy and Respect Week and an exchange program with Swayzee High School. The Student Council also assisted Mrs. Carvey in the annual round-up day and decided the policy for the election of the Bordermen Relays Queen. Supervising the library is no easy task. Excluding some band, scientific, and agricultural magazines and text-books, the library now subscribes to 35 magazines and has a total of 1,000 books. Five hundred and one new elementary books were added to the library last year.

SUPERVISING the library under the direction of Miss Evans, faculty adviser, were assistant librarians (sitting) Nancy Kling, Kaye Reed, Laura Mooneyhan, (standing) Linda Camacho, Mary Ellen Miller, Joyce Artherhults, and Carolyn Brown.

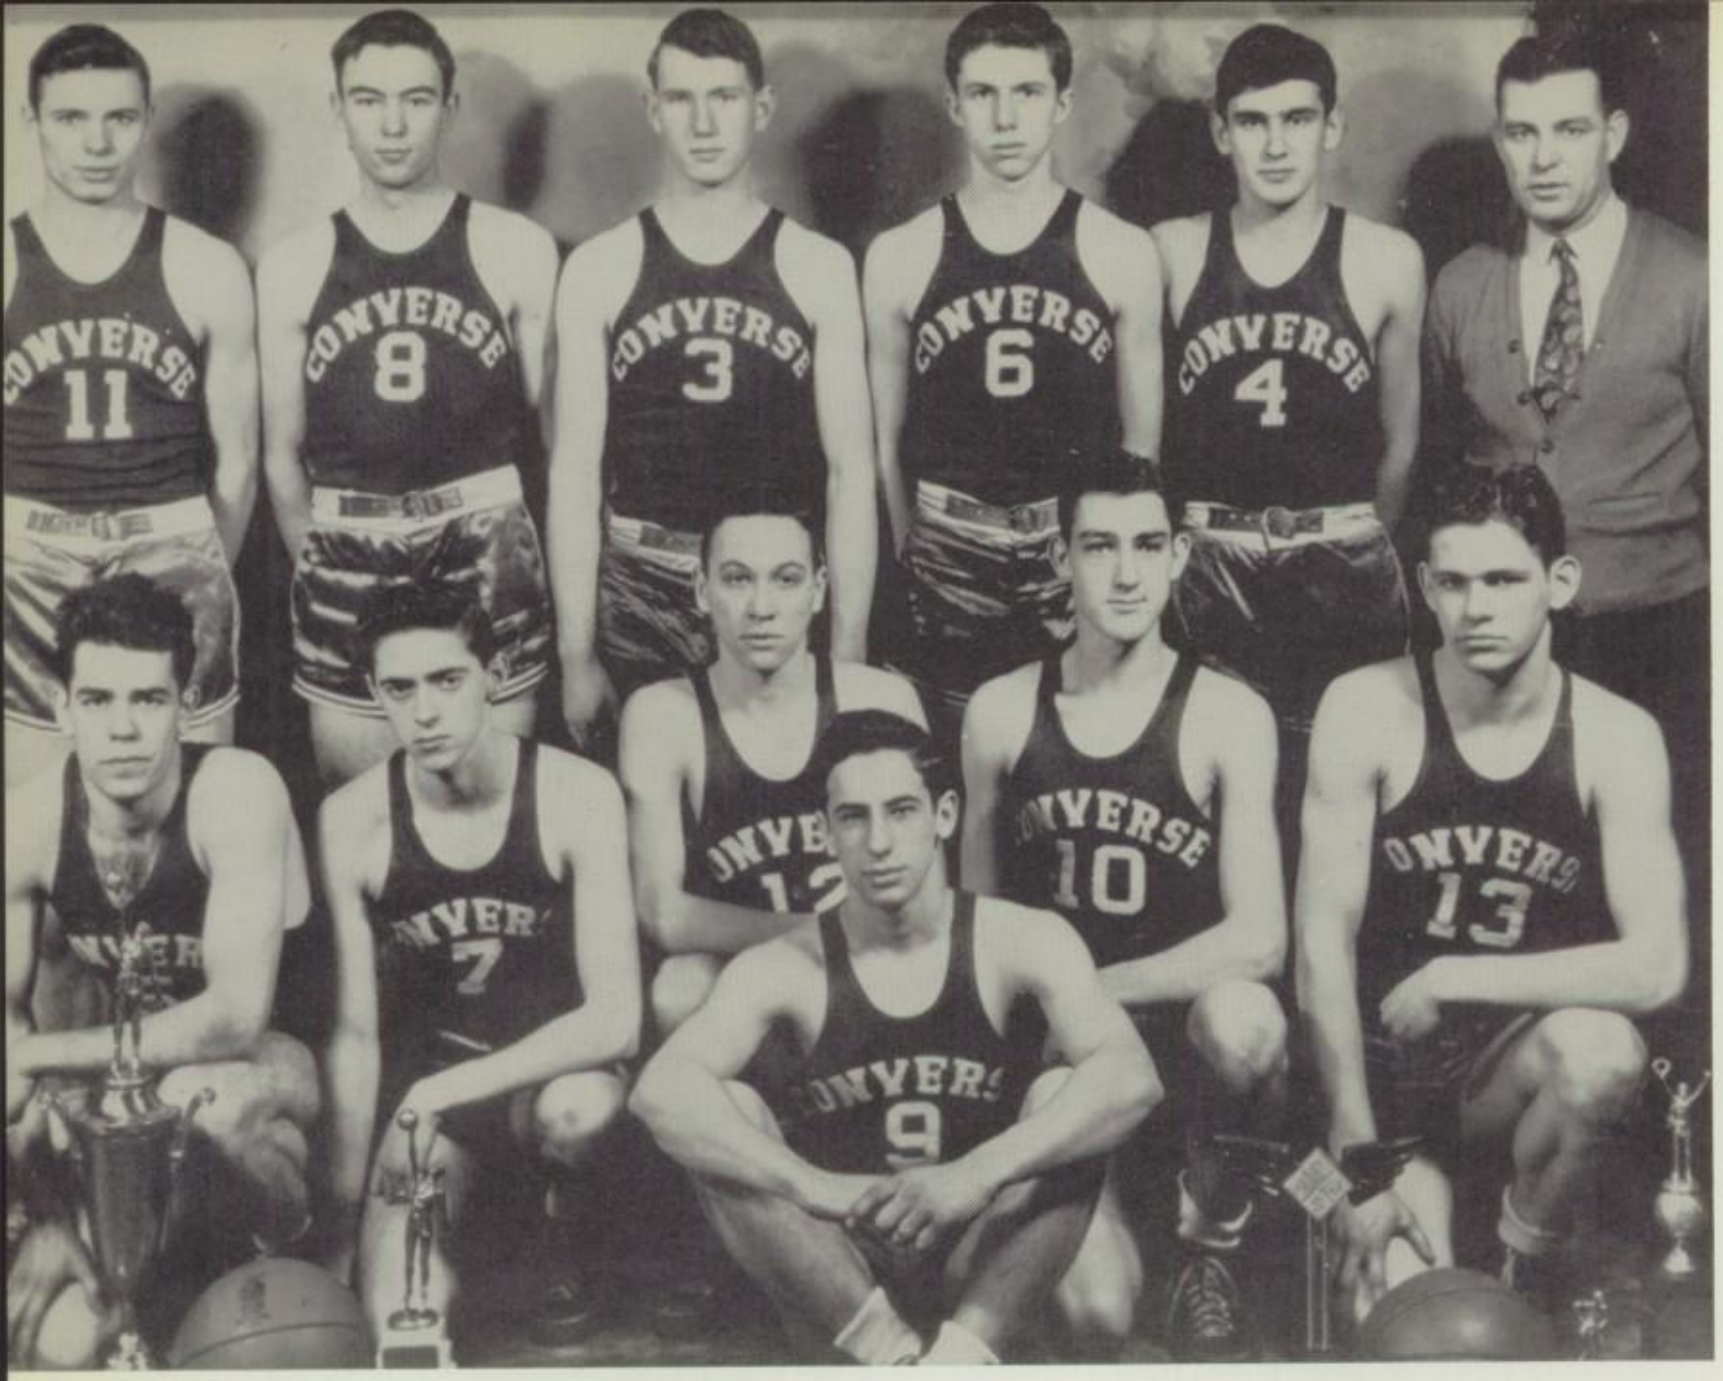
E. C. Carvey starts music groups in '14

The first musical group at Converse was an eight-piece orchestra. J. C. Lucas formed the first band in 1924. Through the years the band became bigger and better. In 1933 the band under the direction of C. A. McGuire received a superior rating at the National Band Contest in Evanston, Illinois. Other directors have been Von Snyder, Eddie Shore, Mack Ralston, and C. F. Drake, the present director. For the past six years the band has received superior ratings at both the District and State Band Contests. In 1955 the band was selected to play for the music section of the State Teachers' Convention, and in 1958 they played for the Indiana Music Educators' Association meeting. The band has made concert tours, playing at colleges and high schools in Indiana and Illinois.

THE 1933 BAND participated in the National Band Contest at Evanston, Illinois. The director was Mr. McGuire.



DAN BALLARD coached the 1944 team to 27 straight victories before they lost in the Semi-Final tournament. Members of the team were (in front) D. Presser, (front row) B. Haynes, C. Bowman, R. Cunningham, O. Burke, D. Bargerhuff, (row 2) L. Turner, M. Renbarger, A. Caldwell, R. Grubb, B. Macy, and Mr. Ballard.

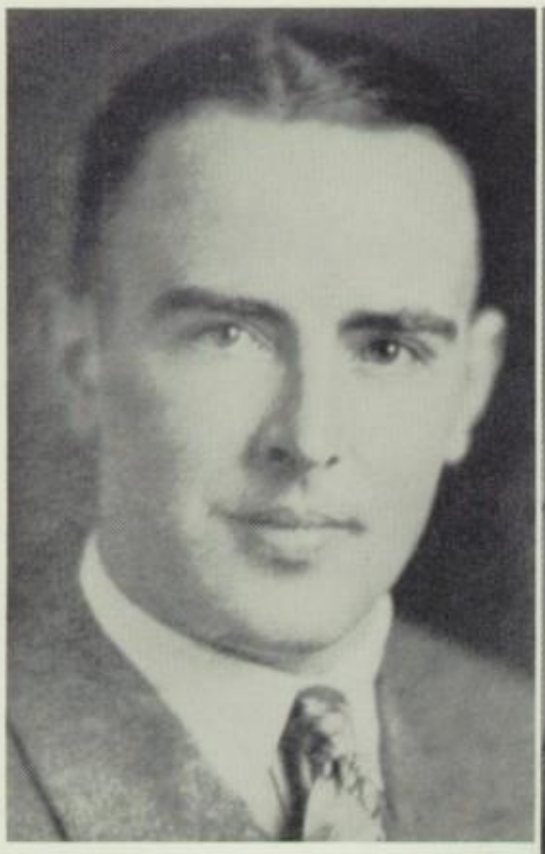
Converse wins 3 Sectionals, Regional

ONE OF THE FIRST basketball teams at Converse was the 1915 team. The members were E. C. Carvey, coach; Russell Shrock, Clyde Harper, Starlus Rennaker, Joe Harper, Paul Summers, Lionel Maple, and Wilber Slusher.

The first basketball team was organized in 1909. Games were played outdoors with no rules, no time limit, and no coach.

One of the first coaches was Homer Bash. While he was coaching, the team acquired the building which is now the Davis Inn as a place to play. It held 30 spectators. There were still no referees and no uniforms. In 1915 the gym was moved to the Presbyterian Church, now the site of the Wesleyan Methodist Church. The 1915 team was undefeated.

The basketball team slowly progressed and improved. In 1926 the present gymnasium was erected. Then in 1944 coach Dan Ballard produced the unforgettable 1943-1944 team, which won 27 consecutive games before being defeated by Culver in the Semi-State. This was the first Sectional-winning team from Converse. The 1949-1950 team and the 1958-1959 team have also won the Sectional since then. The '44 team holds the only Converse Regional title.



MR. EVISTON, who is the social science instructor at Converse, has taught here for 32 years. Here he is shown when he was 21.

SECOND TO NONE in teaching experience at Converse is Mrs. Bertha Carvey. Here she is shown with Mr. Carvey when she was 25. Mr. Carvey founded the music organizations at Converse, and Mrs. Carvey teaches the first grade.

Teachers give dedicated service

There are a few teachers at Converse High School who have taught here for a long time. For example, Mrs. Carvey, who presently teaches the first grade, has taught for 37 years at Converse. She has taught over 1000 children of this community to read and print. Mr. Eviston, the present social studies teacher, has taught for 32 years and has also been coach here. There are also a few teachers who have taught at Converse for several years, but who are presently retired. One of these is Ovid Doan, who taught mathematics at Converse for 32 years. He has taught two generations of children in many families and three generations in a few others. Mrs. Friermood, who was town librarian, taught elementary at Converse for 26 years; Miss Oda Bryan, who used to teach the third, taught for 26 years also; and Mr. Lamb, who taught science classes at the high school level, taught here for 11 years.

These teachers have endeared themselves not only to the pupils they taught but to the whole community for their vast contribution to the lives of their pupils and to the betterment of the community.

OVID DOAN (below) taught 32 years at Converse. During this time he taught mathematics and government. He is now retired on his farm near Converse.

BEVERLY LEE receives the valedictorian pin from principal Herbert Hoffman at Commencement exercises May 22 in the gymnasium. As valedictorian, Beverly gave the speech, "How Shall We Attain Success?" The class motto was "The Door To Success Is Labeled 'Push'."

THE SALUTATORIAN PIN is awarded to Ernest Thode by principal Hoffman. Ernest delivered a speech on "Ambition." Nancy Brookshire spoke on "Opportunity." The class flower was the American Beauty rose; the class colors were citation blue and white. Some of the decorations can be seen in the background.

Distinguished class closes C.H.S. history

THE DISTINCTION of being the last graduate of Converse High School goes to James Brown, shown receiving his diploma from superintendent Hubert Dubois. His graduation marks the end of the long, distinguished history of Converse High School.

BUSILY WORKING on advertising layouts are Beverly Lee, co-editor; Jim Hogan, feature editor; Nancy Kling, business manager; Ernest Thode, proofreader; and Nancy Tibbets, co-editor.
